

Welcome to the Eden Lowell Front Porch Forum

MICHAEL WOOD-LEWIS – FRONT PORCH FORUM, VT

Greetings and welcome to Front Porch Forum. FPF serves a growing number of Vermont towns, now including Eden and Lowell. A special thanks to the many people and organizations who made this happen.

People use FPF in other towns for all sorts of things... finding lost dogs, reporting car break-ins, recommending roofers, announcing school events, debating town budget, organizing block parties and farmers' markets... you name it.

To post a message (and please do), just go to the website <http://frontporchforum.com> and click LOGIN (if not already logged in), then click SUBMIT POSTING.

The mission of Front Porch Forum is to help nearby neighbors connect and foster community. We do that by hosting regional networks of online neighborhood/town forums. More than 60,000 households subscribe to our network in Vermont, including better than half of many towns and neighborhoods. And now we're excited to bring our service to Eden and Lowell!

Please make the most of FPF by reading, forwarding, posting... and recruiting neighbors too. Send folks to FrontPorchForum.com to sign up! Thank you. -Michael
