DRAFT

1. Ricky opened the meeting at 5pm

2. The Selectboard performed the end of season walk through of Lake Eden Rec Area with Melissa M. and Pam. They looked at the playground structures, noting that the new playset needed additional concrete which Ricky and Clayton thought they could take care of themselves. We will have to check the warranty info. The accessible swing is smaller than expected and hanging a little too high for use of older children who need help to get in. It is supposed to be up to age 12 but it does not appear that it would actually fit a 12 year old. An accessible digger was also installed. One of the older diggers came apart and needs welding. We may try to get that done over the winter along with the grates for the shelters that still need fixing. The new basketball hoop bracket needs some attention. Some of the older kids had been dunking balls so it has dropped down and forward. They checked the bathrooms which were in good shape other than someone forced open the door after they were closed and broke the bottom. All water has been shut off and winterized earlier this week.
   There were still quite a few kayak/boats on the racks. Those will be disposed of in the Spring if they are still there. They hope to not have the same problem next year now that the owners are required to tag them with their info. A sign will also be added to the rack noting this as well as the deadline for removing them.
   The lawn mower is going to need service before next season. They could also use a new screen for dragging the sand.
   The board looked at the camper sites in the lower section. There have been a few instances where campers were overlapping. There are maximum lengths for each site and people are bringing in larger campers than will fit. They also need to park in front of the camper, not to the sides. Melissa M. stated that some campers don't have long enough cords to reach the outlets which can be located on the other end of the site. There are cylinders in the ground designating the sites, but they are possibly buried at this point because they could not find them.
   There have been some issues with electrical so sites and boxes were checked. Two outlets need to be replaced. There was extensive conversation regarding the wiring and Tim will contact Matt to discuss possible needs for the future. It appeared that someone had tampered with the phone box so that was closed up as well.

3. Clayton motioned to adjourn at 6pm, Tim seconded, adjourned.
